

MACLEOD JUDICIAL DISTRICT WILL REMAIN OPERATIVE

A rumor has gained currency that Macleod Judicial District would be abolished. George Skelding, M.P., states that in an interview with attorney general J. R. Boyle on Wednesday last at Lethbridge the latter stated emphatically that Macleod Judicial District would continue as heretofore and that Judge Jackson would act in Judge McNeil's place for the time being till a permanent appointment was made and that a clerk of the court would be appointed shortly.

OUR HOG CRISIS AND ITS REMEDY

This fall's swift, marked drop in the price of coarse grains will bring home the wisdom of a steady policy in livestock farming. The lack of a steady policy has just brought about a crisis in the hog industry which is almost tragic and may have a far-reaching effect on our export bacon trade built up through thirty years of careful effort. During the comparatively short period when, in relation to grain prices, production was in an unfavorable position, farmers, especially in the West, by wholesale disposal, almost depleted the country of breeding stock.

The tragedy of this action lies in two things. During the war we had built up a great name and a keen demand for Canadian bacon. We secured a position overseas which would have been assured if supplies had been kept up. Our real danger now is the loss of that market due to the more rapid recovery of other countries where farmers were facilitated enough to get back into the hog business after the war in spite of high feeding prices. To-day the Canadian farmer is faced with having on his hands a big crop of coarse grains at a comparatively low price. It could be very profitably fed to hogs. Yet the hogs are not in the country to be fed.

Immediate action may yet save the situation. In every litter of hogs now being prepared for market there are two or three sows that would make excellent mothers. It is in this that the remedy may be found.

1. Let every farmer who wishes to bring his hog herds back to normal breed some of these this fall.

2. Let every farmer who depleted his breeding stock go to his neighbors and shipping stations where hogs are being loaded and pick out suitable sows for breeding this fall.

If this is done promptly and widely losses will be rapidly replaced. This foresight will result in small pigs next spring being restored to something approaching normal numbers.

By thus securing and breeding sows this season the present great crop of grains may yet be turned to best advantage. Pigs coming in the spring of 1921 may be fed and partly finished on the big crop of 1920. It will mean the restoration of normal conditions in our hog production and, greatest of all, the gains in the long run, will, by restoring the supply of meat to the export market before it is too late assure the future market overseas for our distinctive Canadian hog products.

"GRUMPY" COMING HERE WITH ENGLISH CAST

An exceptional opportunity will be given the residents of Macleod and the neighboring district when Edward Lewers, a noted English actor, will visit the Empress Theatre Wednesday, October 27, with an all-English cast, presenting "Grumpy."

"Grumpy" is a comedy drama, which was made famous on three continents by Cyril Maude, the noted actor, of whom Mr. Lewers is an old associate. It is a delightful and wholesome little comedy, centering upon a mystery. "Grumpy" is the name given by his friends and relatives to Andrew Bullivant, a retired criminal lawyer who affected a gruff and cynical disposition in order to conceal an over kindly heart. A grand nephew of his, returning from South Africa, and stopping off at his house, is robbed of a valuable diamond which he is conveying to a firm of jewellers in London. Upon the solution of the mystery the old gentleman bends his skill, the result of many years practice in the criminal courts.

Mr. Lewers gives a wonderful interpretation of the part, and is ably assisted by a company of notable talent, including Frank Compton, a former leading man at the Drury Lane Theatre, London; Peggy Dundas, a dainty and charming little lady who has played leading roles in every part of the British Empire, Galway Herber, who played Captain Cornelius Keyes in "Seven Days Leave," and Miss Violet Hall Caine, a niece of the famous author.

The company has played in all of the large theatres east of this territory, and notably in Winnipeg, received very favorable criticism from the press and public.

TROUBLES THREATEN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Besides the coal strike, other labor troubles threaten Britain. The government is meeting with strong opposition from the building trades industry on the scheme to employ workless former soldiers on housing. The men here have threatened to strike unless they are protected from unemployment as a result of dilution of industry by the absorption of former service men.

Road transport workers are threatening to strike for the increased minimum wage. One hundred and eighty thousand will be affected. With some branches a stoppage of work, is already ordered for Saturday. The railroad union's delegates meet today to consider their attitude on the coal strike, and if intervention is proposed a conference with the transport delegates will follow.—Calgary Herald.

MACLEOD HOSPITAL TO CONTINUE IN OPERATION

Macleod General Hospital will remain open. This is the result of an agreement arrived at between the hospital board and the Provincial Government, as represented by Dr. Norman, Deputy Minister of Health. The agreement involves an arrangement on the part of the hospital board to afford accommodation for aged and incurable patients—using the top floor and basement for this purpose—and a pledge on the part of the Provincial Government to guarantee payment continuously for an average of twenty government patients as above which at rates of admission set and agreed upon will guarantee revenue to allow the board to carry on without financial loss. This arrangement will in no way conflict with the regular hospital service.

It is current report that Macleod has to thank Major Primrose, of Edmonton, for interesting the government in this matter—be that as it may the results to Macleod and district are highly satisfactory and needless to say greatly appreciated.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Hospital Board held last Wednesday evening, there were present: J. D. Matheson (in the chair in the absence of Chairman A. T. Leather); members Morris, Stevens, Morenash, Father Osborne, Gardiner, Ferguson, Dr. Kirk, Dr. Kennedy, McNichol, Rev. Kennedy, Rev. Lewis, Brown, Smith and Secretary McNay.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. General statement submitted showed a debit of $1411.23. The question of subscriptions by citizens uncollected had been left over pending the return of Rev. Lewis. After passing of accounts the matter of the tendered resignation of Chairman A. T. Leather was dealt with—the board being reluctant to accept same in view of the valued and vigorously efficient service of Mr. Leather in his capacity as chairman of the board—the feeling being that he could not be replaced. After discussion a motion was made and carried appointing Mr. McNay and Dr. Kennedy a committee to call on Mr. Leather with a view to his reconsideration of his resignation.

Ferguson-Morris—That Mr. Matheson be appointed vice-president of the board.—Carried.

Ferguson-Osborne—That help for the new department be advertised for in the Times and Lethbridge and Calgary papers.—Carried.

Discussion showed that the hospital equipment was now sufficient to accommodate 16 patients in the new department except in the matter of dishes and night robes.

Considerable discussion regarding economies in the laying in of supplies was indulged in—special consideration being given to the matter of purchasing meat by the carcass and vegetables wholesale—the latter involving the question of building a root cellar.

Ferguson-Lewis—That Chairman Matheson, Mr. Smith and Dr. Kennedy be appointed a committee to bring in an estimate for cost of constructing a root cellar or renting same and to report to a special meeting.

It was suggested by Rev. Kennedy that the Macleod Ladies' Hospital Aid should seek affiliation with the U.F.W.A., Institutes and Church Ladies' Aids of the district, to the end that town and country interests in the hospital might be totalled towards helpfulness for an institution in which both are vitally interested and the benefits from which would be mutual. If the sympathies of the town and district could be cemented in this matter benefits would accrue in the nature of contributions of supplies from the country districts, etc.; co-operation and a community spirit embracing the town and district would make for easily successful continuance of the hospital. Father Osborne, Rev. Kennedy and Rev. Lewis were appointed a committee to approach the Macleod Ladies' Hospital Aid and acquaint it with the board's views as to possible affiliation with the above women's organizations with a view to enlisting their sympathies and co-operation in the success of the Macleod Hospital as a vital necessity to district and town.

Brown-Morris—That Mr. McNichol and Rev. Kennedy be appointed a

His honor, E. P. McNeil, judge of the district court of the district of Macleod, has been appointed as one of the judges of the district court at Calgary, and also a local judge at Calgary in the supreme Court of Alberta.

Judge McNeil has sat as district court judge here since 1913.

COUNTRIES TO SETTLE FISHERIES DISPUTE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Canada, Newfoundland and the United States are to appoint three members each on an international committee on marine fishery investigations under an agreement reached at an informal conference held last month in Ottawa. Details of the conference were made public by the state department. The conference resulted from the correspondence extending over a number of months between representatives of the three countries on the marine fisheries of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.—Calgary Herald.

ALBERTA OIL FIELDS CERTAIN TO PRODUCE

That Alberta will prove to be a greater oil producing field than Kansas is, or ever will be, was the emphatic opinion expressed at a dinner in the Palliser hotel Tuesday evening by S. W. Forrester, millionaire oil producer of Wichita, Kansas. Mr. Forrester made an offer to supply $10,000 of his own money to any company of Calgary people formed for the purpose of sinking one or two wells in any promising field in this province. This offer was made, he said, because he had faith in Alberta as an oil producing country.

The dinner was given by Marshall A. Cook, partner of Mr. Forrester in his oil enterprises, and former resident of Calgary. Among those present were Dr. Blow, M.L.A., and J. B. Watson, who represents Mr. Forrester's interests here.—Calgary Herald.

4 PROVINCES VOTING ON MONDAY

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Arrangements for the voting in the three prairie provinces and Nova Scotia on Monday Oct. 25, on the referendum covering the importation of liquors are well in hand insofar as the federal authorities are concerned. Returning officers have been named by proclamation in the 57 electoral districts included within the boundaries of the four provinces in which the vote will be taken in much the same manner as it would be at a general election. Both men and women will have the right to vote, the restrictions in this respect being the same as prevailing under the provisions of the Dominion Elections Act. The counting of the votes, will, it is expected, take place on the day the vote is taken and the unofficial figures will be available that evening just as they are at election times.

The returns for each electoral division will be sent to the returning officer for such district. In Saskatchewan and Alberta this official will make his official declaration of the result on Nov. 3. In Manitoba and Nova Scotia the official declaration will not be made until Nov. 5th. Returning officers will forward the official returns to the chief electoral officer and they will be published in the Canada Gazette.

In the event of the province voting dry, provision is made in the Canada Temperance Act for the issuance of a proclamation making the vote of the people effective, but this cannot take place until the last 60 days after the voting day. This means that people who desire to import liquor will have at least until the Christmas holidays to lay in their supply. The ballot will contain but one question: "Shall the importation of intoxicating liquor into the province be forbidden?" The drys

OPEN TRADING IN WHEAT TO BE CONTINUED

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—That the government will not re-establish wheat control is practically certain. It is understood that before the departure of the prime minister for the west, on Friday, an official statement will be issued giving the government's reasons for the continuance of present open trading conditions.—Calgary Herald.

GOVERNMENT TOO BUSY WITH SUGAR TO GIVE THOUGHT TO WHEAT

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—There has not yet been any decision by the cabinet in the matter of wheat control, according to one of the ministers, who stated tonight that the question was not before the cabinet council at its meeting today. While the cabinet will have its hands full for the next couple of days in deciding the sugar question on the evidence brought forward at the hearing tomorrow, it is expected that there will be a decision on wheat control before the departure of Premier Meighen for the west.—Morning Albertan.

MACSWINEY SINKS

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork suffered a serious attack of extreme delirium shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, the sixty-ninth day of his hunger strike, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League this afternoon. "All his relatives were summoned to him," the bulletin added. "The attack lasted until 12 o'clock and at one o'clock the lord mayor had regained his normal condition. He is now quiet but not yet quite normal mentally."—Lethbridge Herald.

A STORY OF THE ETERNAL TRIANGLE

"Out of the Storm," adapted from "The Tower of Ivory"—by Gertrude Atherton, the latest Eminent Authors production, about to be released, is an absorbing plot played before a background of London society.

John Ordham, (Lord Bridgenister) a prominent figure in the politics of Great Britain, finds himself in love with Styr, a famous singer, and a girl with a past, while he is engaged to Mabel Cutting, an American girl who is immensely wealthy.

The scandal-mongers of London society spread rumors which re-act by making Mabel the recipient for undeserved sympathy. It was undeserved because few seemed to realize that the match between John and Mabel was nothing more than a business transaction where a title was exchanged for money. Walter Driscombe, a former lover of Mabel's, saves John from the embarrassing situation, by becoming indignant about the trend of affairs between Mabel and John, and marries Mabel, thus releasing him from his loveless tie. Free to satisfy his heart's desire, he hastens to Styr and asks her to marry him. Styr, believing that her past is buried and forgotten, accepts him. Their happiness was short-lived, however, for Albert Levering arrives from America and knowing Styr from the days when she was a singing girl in a none too savory resort on the Barbary Coast, informs her husband of her past. Styr pleads with John to save his diplomatic career from disaster, by releasing her, but in his overwhelming love for the girl, he refuses to consider her past history at all.

To accomplish what she believes, in her blind devotion will save John, Styr "plants" Levering in her room at the close of a concert, just as her husband is calling for her. As he enters the room he finds Mabel in the arms of Levering, caressing him fondly and drinking. Just as he turns away in disgust, matters shape themselves quickly and unexpectedly, as you will see when "Out of the Storm" comes to the Empress theatre for two days commencing Monday and Tuesday.

"OH, JOHNNY!" FAST
ROMANCE OF THE WEST

"Oh, Johnny!" in which Louis Ben- nison will be seen for the first time as a screen actor, at the Empress theatre, beginning Friday and Saturday, has more than the ordinary values of film comedy.

When Adele Butler leaves her chum and partner, Johnny Burke, to live with her fashionable relations on Long Island, she is just as unspoiled, simple and charming a girl as you could wish to find anywhere. Her aunt and uncle, however, though of one of the oldest families of the East, have most of the defects and few of the qualities of their kind. They spoil the girl, instil false ideas and false values into her head until she is in a fair way to become like them.

So much so that when Johnny appears to visit her she is at first inclined to be ashamed of her old chum and partner. She is delighted to see him and she can never forget his kindness, but after the excitement of the meeting has worn off she sees his uncouth manners and his lack of the superficial graces too vividly.

It is not until Johnny is able to prove that the supposed fashionables who were trying to teach her to despise him were actually imposing and preying upon her and conniving to cheat her of her fortune that she realizes the thorough worthlessness of the snobbish ideas she was on the verge of acquiring. Johnny saves her money from the clutches of her greedy relatives and she, in turn, comes to the conclusion that the West is the proper place for her.

CHAMPION DIVER
CANNOT SWIM
A STROKE

Capt. John F. Turner, claiming to be the world's champion deep sea diver, who has recently been employed on some wrecking operations at Eastport, Me., cannot swim a stroke. And this after 23 years of deep sea diving, his submarine career beginning when he was 18 years old.

Captain Turner claims a record of 154 feet in regulation rubber suit, but last year went down 376 feet off Boston harbor in a specially constructed suit of bronze. The previous record for divers in the regulation deep sea outfit is given at 128 feet, the depth reached by several experienced workers who were engaged to recover valuables in the St. Lawrence river after the steamship Empress of Ireland sank with the loss of so many lives in 1914. Turner's record was made when he was recovering valuable mail bags from the Spanish steamship Zulia, sunk off the Virginia capes.

Turner has had many thrilling experiences working on United States, British and Spanish ships on diving jobs from Halifax, Nova Scotia, to Florida, and has even gone down into the deep Patagonia.

"While making trips in the dark and often muddy waters where it is impossible to see far ahead, a diver encounters many dangers from fish," he said. "One of the most troublesome and obnoxious is the ravenous dogfish, which has been known to attack swimmers. The common codfish might be ranked next as a menace in some waters as these large fish sometimes bite off the air hose or lifeline in places where the diver cannot reach. A small fish known as the ballast fish, and always found close to the bottom of the ocean, is dangerous when stepped on, as the teeth are as sharp as a tiger's and the rubber diving suits can be quickly ruined by such an assailant, as also by the more common catfish in northern waters.

Captain Turner's Closest Call
"It is rarely that a shark, porpoise or whale bothers deep sea divers, and most fish encountered when walking on the bottom will swim away when struck with a pole or stick."

Captain Turner's closest call, he considers, had nothing to do with any denizen of the deep. A British monitor, sunk during rifle practice off the Bermuda coast, had been sold to junk dealers, and Turner went down to investigate the possibilities for salvage. While passing through a heavy iron hatch it fell over on his air hose and life line, pinning them so that he was unable to make his escape or signal his tender, and for twenty-seven hours he remained in that predicament waiting for aid to reach him. Up above they finally suspected something must be wrong and lowered another diver, who released him. The sensation of those twenty-seven hours in the under-water trap can be better imagined than described.

Working about wreckage where sails, rigging and a great confusion of ropes are found on the deck of the wrecked vessel is almost always dangerous, as the divers may become entangled in the mass or fall through a hatch into the interior of the ship. Often they use a hatchet to cut away rigging and ropes and it occasionally happens that the diver will cut his own life line or air hose. Captain Turner says he has been fouled twenty-seven times while working on wrecks. The air valves in the helmet also often freeze or become clogged so that the necessary air is cut off.

Divers Have Telephones
But the modern diver is supplied with a telephone, the wire running through air hose or up the life line, so that he can instantly communicate his danger to his tender, whose duty it is to see that the pumps are kept going and the air hose free and every precaution taken for the safety of the man under water. It is also possible for two divers to converse directly while under water by putting their bronze helmets together.

The diver entrusts his life to his assistant, yet little is ever heard of this skilled worker in connection with the reports of diving operations. The assistants themselves usually have had some experience in diving and eventually become regular divers. Turner is "handled" by Mike Sullivan of Boston.

The champion contends that the best deep sea divers are those with the least blood in their veins, as they are best able to withstand the great pressures and suffer least when brought back into the normal pressure of the open air. He himself is 41 years old, a native of Philadelphia. His home is at Newburyport, Mass., where he has a wife and a twelve-year-old daughter. Mrs. Turner has been twenty-eight feet under water in the rubber diving suit used by her husband.—Family Herald.

"GRUMPY"

(From "Herbert R. Worden")
Edward Lewers, the talented English actor of character roles who appears at the Empress Theatre for one night's engagement next Wednesday, October 27th, has an English and American stage career of distinction. Still quite a young man, he has made a life study of character parts. He first started with Sir Herbert Tree in London, later being associated with Marting Harvey and Cyril Maude. More recently, on this side of the Atlantic, he starred in comedy roles with Robert Mantell, in the latter's Shakespearian productions, at the same time being his stage director.

The company associated with Mr. Lewers is an all English one, every member being well known on the English stage. Frank Compton, who produces "Grumpy" in conjunction with Mr. Lewers, is a former Drury Lane leading man. Miss Peggy Dundas, leading ingenue, has been associated with the most prominent stars and has played leading roles both in London, and, on tour, in many parts of the British Empire.

Miss Violet Hall Caine, talented in the presentation of light comedy roles is a niece of the famous author who has made the Isle of Man a household word, while the other members of the company are also prominent figures in comedy drama.

"Grumpy" is a charming comedy drama, in which mystery, suspense and humor are blended in equal proportion, the success of the offering being due to Mr. Lewers' wonderful interpretation of the title role, and to the loyal support which his company gives him.

Stiff Joints Sore Muscles

Smoother Out By Hamlin's Wizard Oil

Soreness and stiffness resulting from unaccustomed use of muscles or too much exercise, such as tennis, baseball, golf, hand-ball, etc., give way quickly to the soothing effect of Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It penetrates fast, drives out the soreness, and limbers up stiff, aching joints and muscles.

Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a good dependable preparation to have in the medicine chest for first aid and when the doctor may be far away. It is an absolutely reliable antiseptic application for cuts, burns, bites and stings. Sprains and bruises heal rapidly under its soothing, penetrating qualities. Keep it on hand. Generous size bottle 25c.

If you are troubled with constipation or sick headache try Hamlin's Wizard Liver Wafers. Just pleasant little pink pills at drugists for 25c.

REPORT BIG OIL GUSHER AT FORT NORMAN

(From the Calgary Herald.) EDMONTON, Oct. 16.—News regarding the oil strike at Fort Norman, and the huge quantity of the fluid available, is furnished by A. L. Shaw, late of the Imperial Oil Company, who arrived in the city on Friday evening from the far north.

According to Mr. Shaw, the gusher was struck at a distance of 800 feet, on August 25, the force of the flow being so great that the column of oil sailed skyward 15 feet above the top of the derrick, while the wind blew the oil for a distance of from three to four hundred yards over the surface of the Mackenzie river from the drill which is situated about two hundred yards back from the river bank. The well casing is six inches in diameter, hence the size of the flow can be imagined in conjunction with the height to which the pressure forced the fluid, while with a two-inch lead pipe, a 40-gallon barrel was filled in one minute.

Prior to the big strike, oil was flowing from the well at the rate of from ten to thirteen barrels per day, but at the present time it is impossible to calculate the amount which might be obtained in 12 hours.

The well has been successfully capped and at the present time there is no leakage.

THE TEACHERS' ALLIANCE

The teachers of the province of Alberta have formed themselves into an alliance. The alliance to them is what the U.F.A. is to the farmers, or what the "union" is to the tradesmen. Teachers' alliances exist in every province of Canada, in all or many of the States, and also England, Wales, Ireland and Scotland. The teachers are uniting the world over. In Alberta there are about three thousand teachers, of these about two thousand five hundred belong to the alliance. Of those who do not belong almost are teachers working in district rural schools who have just temporarily put off joining, they are not antagonistic to joining. The president is Mr. Newlands, of Calgary; the general secretary is Mr. Barnett, of Edmonton. Mr. Barnett does nothing but alliance work, he receives three thousand per annum and earns it, he employs one or two stenographers, the official organ of the A.T.A. magazine, published monthly, the annual subscription price is one dollar, anyone may subscribe. If the alliance stood alone it would avail considerable good, but it has the friendly co-operation of the U.F.A. and of organized labor. Many candidates for municipal offices ardently court the local branch of the alliance for its support in the elections. With one or two notable exceptions the various school boards and taxpayers at large in the province find the local branch their staunch friend and supporter.

From the newspapers many people get the idea that the Alliance exists for no other purpose than to raise the salary of teachers. But the Alliance has other ends in view. As it cannot attack all its problems at once, it attacks them one by one. For the ensuing year it will grapple with two at least, namely, school taxation, and the revision of the high school Curriculum. A Bureau of Research conducted by educational experts has been established in this province. The Bureau exists for the purpose of investigating the problems mentioned. As soon as these have been dealt with other problems will be taken up.

Each local branch of the Alliance usually meets about once a month. At these meetings the teachers exchange various ideas and discuss such topics as the teaching of spelling, school discipline, art instruction, Christmas concerts, etc. In lively meetings of the nature teachers not only learn much from each other but develop a splendid "esprit de corps."

Very truly yours,
COLIN B. FAULKNER.

Half a dozen shapely and highly skilled diving girls constitute one of the attractive features of "Oh, Johnny," the Betzwood Film Company's picture in which Louis Bannison makes his screen debut. This promises to be one of the most varied and amusing of this year's camera plays. It has real excitement and suspense, innumerable comic points and also makes a strong appeal to the eye. The diving and swimming takes place on the handsome Long Island estate, where the guests are entertained by these nymphlike diversions.

IS THERE A HELL?

(By Rev. W. E. Orchard, D.D., in The London, Eng., Sunday Express.)

Whether hell exists and, if so, what it really means are questions that have always afforded a great field for controversy, not only among ecclesiastics, but also among all thoughtful laymen. In the following article, which has been specially written by Dr. Orchard for the "Sunday Express," the eminent pastor of the King's Weigh House Chapel discusses the subject in a very broad-minded way and draws his own conclusions.

Many people are inclined to class the idea of hell with all the other ecclesiastical dogmas they hate and believe to be exploded. The popular notion of hell, with its roaring flames, awful anguish, and endless torment, has certainly proved for recent generations the crumbling point of the whole and the revolt has carried him far, system of Christian Theology. It is here that man's mind has revolted so that it has almost become a sign of real religion not to believe in it, and the churches or theologians which still teach it find considerable difficulty in retaining the confidence of thoughtful people. The idea seems so inconsistent with a God of love. No one, however badly he has sinned, deserves endless punishment. It must be an invention of priests to frighten people.

Yet there are one or two things to be said about the idea which need to be considered before we join in the prevalent repudiation of its possibility. It is not the invention of Christian theologians; the idea of hell is found in nearly every religion the world has known, and these religions were constructed from the thoughts of poets and feelings of the common people. The details of suffering and torture at which sensitive souls shudder are to be found, not in the Bible, but in Dante and other mediaeval writers, an they borrowed them from Virgil, from the Orphic mysteries, and they were probably derived from Oriental sources. But all peoples left to their own thoughts about another world have believed that there must be a hell in which the wicked will be punished.

Christianity has retained this belief, but with a difference. The Bible is really very reticent about hell. Some of the references to it obviously refer not to individual punishment at all, but to the destruction which overtakes nations, and sometimes to the final destruction of hateful things. Look at these passages from the Book of Revelation:

"And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where are also the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever."

"And death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire."

Here, at least, the beast and the false prophet are systems. And Hades! Why, that means hell will itself be destroyed in hell. Christ certainly spoke very seriously about hell, but mostly to warn us that those who would find themselves there would be the very people who were certain they were safe.

But suppose we leave the Bible and the theologians for a while and look at the facts of history and the convictions of human thought. Some people have found themselves wanting a hell lately as the only fit place for the Kaiser and the Germans. We may regret the hate and blinded judgment which dictate this demand, but it witnesses to a feeling that people who have made others suffer ought to suffer themselves, and that need not be mere vindictiveness. Until some people know what they have made others suffer and suffer it themselves there is no hope for their moral regeneration.

To take a wider view, the war has taught us that man, left to his own ways, can construct a terrible hell. A German soldier wrote home: "The theological hell holds no terrors for those who have been through this." The British sailor described the battle of Jutland tersely and sufficiently when he said: "We gave them hell." And it does look as if human society, with all its apparent respectability and humanitarianism, is stoking up a terrible hell of suffering for the future with the strifes and anachronies it is generating.

If there is no hell in the other world it is a conceivable enough condition here.

Then when we come to the human mind we find the possibility of hell there in remorse, in the accusation of an awakened conscience, in strange fears which can wreck peace and endanger sanity. The truth is, despite the curious optimism of the modern mind, that, socially and psychologically, hell is much easier to conceive than heaven.

A MEATLESS HOT PIE

Another Use Discovers For Those Oxo Cubes.

Here is a recipe calling for no meat other than the concentrated beef-goodness to be found in the familiar Oxo cube.

Peel and slice sufficient potatoes to half fill a large pie dish, add few small onions, also sliced. Put into cold water, bring quickly to a boil, boil one minute, then drain.

Put back in pie dish with few slices of tomato, season with pepper and salt and flavour with herbs. Dissolve one Oxo cube in 1 pint of hot milk and pour over mixture. Put few bits of butter on top and bake for two hours in moderate oven. It's delicious.

All dealers sell Oxo in tins of four, ten, and fifty cubes.

LADIES' HOSPITAL AID

The Hospital Ladies' Aid will meet in the Methodist Church Hall on Tuesday, Oct. 26th, at 4 p.m. 33-11

Taffy one day came across Pat, who was breaking stones on the side of the road and said:

"Is it by the yard you are paid for those stones?"

"No," said Pat, "but by the stone."

"If so," said Taffy, "how many stones would go to make a yard?"

"None," said Pat, "they all have to be carried."

TREMENDOUS SPEED OF SOME ANIMALS

Two of the fastest of the smaller animals are the greyhound and the jackrabbit. The greyhound can go at the rate of thirty-two miles an hour, while his cousin, the Russian wolfhound, can beat him by five miles and has much greater powers of endurance.

Out in Kansas a crazy jackrabbit started up beside a passenger train making forty miles an hour. The passengers crowded the platforms and windows and whooped it up for the jack. The jack went completely insane and raced the train for miles, never losing an inch or a jump. As the train and the jack flashed past the last mile post neck and neck the jack curled up in the air in the middle of jump and landed on his haunches and coolly rubbed one of his forefeet over his nose.

There is another animal that is so fast no one has ever been able to find out how fast he is. This is the porpoise. The porpoise can do stunts in front of the fastest boat that travels the bounding waves and when he is through after several hours of clowning he flirts his tail and nonchalantly speeds beyond the horizon. The porpoise will do his tricks under the bow of a 9-knot cargo tramp or a 22-knot ocean greyhound. He is like the antelope in that he sets his pace according to the speed of the pursuer.

And let us not forget that small and hairy insect, the honey bee. This little creature develops great speed on the western plains. In Oklahoma there was a passenger train making the traditional forty miles an hour. It was a warm day and the windows of the cab were wide open on both sides. A honey bee flew through the cab, grazing the nose of the startled engineer, turned at right angles, flew for a dozen miles beside the engine, and then, with an intelligent hum, put on a spurt and disappeared up the line ahead of the rocking train.—Family Herald.

LOCAL CONDITIONS AND IRRIGATION

When we reflect upon the history of the district surrounding Macleod we conclude that it may be divided into eras.

The first of these is the remote past, when tribes of Indians and herds of buffalo roamed at will over the identical land which farmers are now cultivating in their fields, but in the course of time the white man came, and then began the days of the cattle ranch, cowboy and the round-up, and the fame of Macleod spread as the centre of a cattle country, but although this was an industry of no small importance, yet it became apparent that, held only for grazing, the land was not producing the wealth of which it was capable. It was found to be fertile and thus began the days of the farmer.

While the land was new and fresh not much difficulty was met with; but with the constant cultivation of the soil and the loss of its fibre, serious troubles have arisen, and all too frequent have been the failures, and appeals to the government for assistance. Farming with the natural rainfall has proven an uncertainty, while investigation has shown that it is possible to utilize the waters, now going to waste in the river, for the production of crops, and so has arisen the demand for irrigation, and if it is to be followed it will mark another change in the development of our district.

It is probable that in the near future the question will be submitted to the farmers in the proposed South Macleod District, and before embarking on any such scheme, we must consider well what the consequences are likely to be.

First, irrigation is no experiment. It has been tried and proven in many places, and within thirty miles of Macleod may be seen an example, where in the recent years abundant crops have been harvested, while on the dry lands adjoining there was practically nothing.

We must ask ourselves the question does the future hold any promise of better things than we have seen in the past? We maintain that the prospects are not as good. Soil drifting is becoming worse, while weeds and thistles are already a serious menace.

Again, there is a partially constructed line of railway through this proposed district, but partially constructed it has remained for the past eight years, and in all fairness, had the road been completed, would it have earned operating expenses? Meanwhile, the people suffer in isolated parts the expense of long hauls, difficult roads, distant schools, and many of the ills peculiar to a pioneer country. There is much to be said for the dry climate as compared with the more humid, if only the moisture can be controlled in the land. A dry and healthy atmosphere; generally speaking, mild winters when stock can range outside, and as a rule, favorable weather in harvest time, and crop failure is scarcely more aggravating than after producing crops, to have them injured or destroyed by unfavorable weather.

The source of water for this district is the Kootenay river at a point some seven miles westwards from the Ewelme P.O. The route continues eastwards and northwards, gradually leaving the course of the river until it reaches the range line between ranges 25 and 26, thence, roughly speaking, it continues northwards to what is known as the six mile coulee. A branch then goes westwards through the Rathwell flats, while another branch leads to Macleod and eastwards to Orton and Long Bottom and northwards towards Pearce as far as practical. About 120,000 acres in all, and although there are as yet no official estimates of the cost, it is safe to say that the cost will be but a fraction of what other systems have cost elsewhere, and which have greatly increased the value of land.

While these things are true, there are others which must be born in mind.

Irrigation will not reduce the amount of work on the farms, but this can be tolerated so long as there are returns for the labor. Care must also be taken in applying water, for if too much is used baking of the soil may result and much harm follow. Again trouble may be met with by soil drifting into the ditches and filling them, but this will disappear when more of the land is turned again into soil.

The town of Macleod has an interest in this matter scarcely less than that of the farmers, for the interests of the entire community are inseparable, and population, industry, greater production, more stability, and less uncertainty are the vital needs of this community is to recover from the misfortunes of the past and become really prosperous.

Under irrigation the large farm of hundreds or thousands of acres will give place to smaller holdings, and a thrifty family was located upon every quarter, or less, of irrigable land in this district, it would go far towards solving our economical problems.

NEW MITCHELL LEWIS OFFERING IS VIRILE DRAMA OF NORTHWEST

Mitchell Lewis, star of so many thrilling dramas of the woods, hills and plains, will be seen in another thrilling story of the great Northwest when his latest Select picture, "The Last of His People" comes to the Empress theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

In "The Last of His People" Mitchell Lewis is presented with Lone Wolf, a Indian, the last of his tribe, who, with his young sister, Na-ta-le, is adopted and reared by an embittered white man who had cast himself to a life of isolation in the forests of the Northwest.

Here the Indian children are reared and taught the ways and manners of the whites and when a party of gay New Yorkers journey to their land on a hunting trip, there begins a drama so unusual and intricate that the result is left in doubt until the last moment.

The scenes for the most part are laid in the north woods with glimpses here and there of gay New York and its picturesque Greenwich Village.

The author of the story, Robert North Bradbury, also directed the production. A strong supporting cast includes Yvette Mitchell, Catherine Van Buren, Eddie Hearn, Joseph Swickard and others.

HELP THE CHILDREN

"Ils aiment beaucoup les enfants" (They love the children very much) was a remark frequently made by the people of France, among whom the soldiers of the Canadian Corps were billeted. It fitted the Canadian soldiers for, hard hitters though they were in the firing line, they liked nothing better when in their "rest billets" than to play with and amuse the children. It was a very usual sight in the Canadian areas to see a heavy gunner with "Canada" on his shoulder straps, or a stalwart sergeant of infantry, or a sturdy sapper of the engineers, holding Madame's tiny "bebe" while she improved the time at her multifarious household duties or perhaps at making "une tasse de cafe pour les soldats." Nor do we think that the soldiers—big hearted and fair minded as they were—could have withheld their tenderness even had the tiny baby been a little Hun. However that may be, the soldier of Canada in his kindness and care for the weak and helpless, and sometimes the character of the nation to which he belongs. There are now millions of children of Europe who have been made fatherless and destitute by the war. Their case is pitiful beyond description. Ill nourished during the conflict, they need condensed milk, fats and sugar to recover into normal conditions of growth and health. Several millions of them can get those foods only as they are provided by other nations—chiefly the British Empire and the United States of America. The Canadian Red Cross is to make an appeal on their behalf

Piles Cured Permanently Without Drugs

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause

Mr. A. N. Steele, Cupar, Sask., writes: "I had been troubled with my Stomach, Piles and Constipation for years until I had become very thin and looked 20 years older. A leading Doctor in Regina told me that the main canal was badly ulcerated. I gradually became worse, until one day, when purchasing a threshing outfit from Mr. Russell of Regina, Mr. Russell noticed my condition and said: 'I can cure you. Get a J.B.L. Cascade.' Well, I did so, and the first night I used it I slept all night for the first time in weeks, and in a short time felt quite myself again. It also cured my piles, which had troubled me for years."

If you are troubled with constipation, don't drug yourself. Internal bathing with the J.B.L. Cascade is the only permanent way. This wonderful appliance is the invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, New York. It is pleasant and easy to use, and will serve the whole family. It should be in every home. See the J. B. L. Cascade at A. D. Ferguson's, Druggist, Macleod, Alta., where it will be shown and explained to you. Ask for 32-page booklet all about internal bathing. It is free, or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College Street, Toronto, Ont.

during Armistice Week, when it will ask for contributions to the British Empire Relief Fund. The appeal for that fund is being made throughout the whole Empire. Canadian contributions to the fund will be forwarded through the Canadian Red Cross; and the British Red Cross, in co-operation with the League of Red Cross Societies, will direct their expenditure where most needed. All who are interested—and who is not?—should get immediately in touch with the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross, or if no such exists with the headquarters of their respective Provincial Divisions.

DESTROYED FILM THAT COST MANY THOUSANDS

LONDON.—The British public has just learned from the report of a government committee that a moving picture film prepared by direction of the war office at a cost of $117,000 was destroyed after the armistice by government order because it was considered unsuitable for exhibition in peace time. The film was intended by the government to show what might have happened if England had been invaded by the Germans but it was not ready to be exhibited before the signing of the armistice and consequently was never publicly produced.

The Star reports that the film was a masterpiece of realism. There were many scenes depicting the British countryside under enemy rule, taken from real incidents obtained from Belgium and France and "battles" were arranged in which actual army corps took part. William Davies, a well-known pageant producer was given carte blanche by the War Office, which supplied all accoutrements needed and a staff of naval and military officers to ensure every detail being correct. German uniforms, helmets, rifles and other paraphernalia from prisoners of war were appropriated to equip the "invading forces."

A special cinema camp was established in the neighborhood of the inland town of Chester, so that airplane and Zeppelin raids should not interfere with the production? For two or three hours on a number of days, a railway station at Chester was closed to the public, in order that British and "German" troops might be filmed entraining and detraining. One of the principal difficulties was inducing British soldiers to appear in German uniforms.

The biggest fights were far more real than the biggest fighting fiction films have ever shown, says the report.—Lethbridge Herald.

REACH & CO.

The H. B. Co. have told you all that they are giving up business this year. It is needless to say that we all will miss them. They had it in their power to be very aggressive or tyrannising with their small competitors. But on the other hand they were civil and courteous. This is important to the merchants and yourselves. It is policy to keep the old reliable stores up to date and able to cater to the increased trade. To do this, however, fresh stock will have to be put in. This is where you, the purchasing public, come on the scene. When the company pull out it means other stores coming in—Jew stores or men who have no sympathy with you and who come for the cash—with Eastern ideas of getting it. Now you can still keep the old merchants in business and enable them to get fresh goods and a larger stock by paying up your bills, even if you have to borrow to do so. These men have trusted you, had faith in you and know the peculiar circumstances many of you were placed in. So by paying them what you owe they can at once re-invest the money buying a larger stock. This is a case in which honesty is the best policy, and you can't be honest when you keep or spend the money instead of paying the merchant what you owe.

JAP IMMIGRATION

It is understood that Japan is insisting that among the signatories of the League of Nations, of which she is one, it shall be admitted that all are equal insofar as immigration is concerned. In other words, that Japanese who may desire to emigrate to Canada shall be received here as freely as emigrants from the United Kingdom. That point of view is sure to be combated by Canada if the views of British Columbia representatives are considered.

There is plenty of good argument
on the side of the British Columbians in this matter, and it is proper that Canada's representatives on the League of Nations council should present the British Columbia view.
It is not desirable, neither is it advisable that there should be free immigration into Western Canada from the Orient. Socially, morally and economically such an invasion as would follow an equality pronouncement would be disastrous to the western part of the Dominion.

Heretofore we have been able to arrange for a limited immigration which, while not ideal in its results,
has been more or less satisfactory.
If the representatives of Japan on the League of Nations council are as wise as they should be, they will see that a continuation of this limited immigration will be in the best interests of both nations. It is not that we are opposed to Japanese immigration. Rather that we do not want to have to take it in too large doses.
That would not be good for us and would be worse for the immigrants.
It is a ticklish problem and will call for some careful handling.—Calgary Herald.

Wife: "I'd ten times sooner stay at home than go on a visit to the

A WOMAN'S AGE

One hears much talk these days that women will hesitate to tell inquiring election officials how old they are when they go to the polls to vote. It is even suggested that some women may take five or ten years out of their lives when they register.

Thus, madam is, no doubt, the silly invention of women haters who would have it appear that there is only one secret a woman can keep, to wit, her age.

Of course, they know not whereof they speak.

"I am 45," said a beautiful Parisienne in one of Balzac's stories.

"And you admit it!" exclaimed an astonished admirer.

"To be sure, and with pride," she answered. "Monsieur, is it not something to be proud of that at 45 I still am young and still have my share of good looks? It is no achievement to be young and pretty at 20, but at 45, ah, monsieur, that is something!"

This thought is presented for the consideration of women who do not like to tell how old they are, if there be any such, as some persons would have us believe there are.

"I want to make it fashionable to be more than 30 years old," said a suffragist, admitting she was 45.

"Oh," exclaimed the bright reporters who were interviewing her, "you mean they will take off years from their lives when they register to vote?"

"No," she exclaimed, "but, knowing that every November she will have to admit her correct age at the polls, a woman, out of pride, will make an effort to retain the appearance of youth even while she is growing older in years."—Morning Albertan.

DOESN'T LOOK GOOD

A United States census bureau report announces that city populations are increasing seven and a half times as rapidly as the populations of rural districts. Also that when the new census is completed it will show city population in the United States greater in total than rural population.
To Canadians this state of affairs is of interest for the reason that it more or less closely reflects our own trend.

In such countries as the United States and Canada, which are undoubtedly agrarian by a large majority of social and economic conditions were normal as they should be, it is distressing to discover that conditions are so abnormal as to entirely upset natural development. Socially, morally and economically this abnormal condition is certain to work greatest injury to the state.

At the same time it is difficult to know just how any improvement of a permanent sort can be effected. One would imagine that a solution of the problem would be to discover why the urban centres attract and, having discovered the lure, transfer it to the rural districts and thus offset the exodus from the farms. But it cannot be done. Man is a social animal and in spite of everything he will gather with his fellows. The appeal of sociality is mostly to the young and those from the rural districts are caught by it early in life. It is only after they have cut their wisdom teeth and received their second sense, as it were, that they find the so-called advantages of urban residence to be more or less Dead Sea fruit.
Then they are too late in life in most cases to change again.

Probably the true solution of the problem will be found in creating a social atmosphere for rural districts quite as good as that of urban centres. Also in ultimately placing the farmer on a plane equal to the manufacturer in an economic sense. With conditions as they are and have been the farmer is perforce a gambler. He is the most outstanding example of the man who does not control the destinies of his own business. Despite the best he may do nature decides what his output shall be, good or bad, while the men he has to do business with tell him what he shall receive for his products. That state of affairs is not calculated to draw men into agrarian ranks until a change has been effected we may expect the rush to the towns and cities to continue.—Calgary Herald.

"Jim's going to sue the company for damages."

"Why? What did they do to 'im?"

"They blew the quitten' buzzer whin 'e was carryin' a 'eavy piece of iron, and 'e dropped it on 'is foot."— Royal Magazine.

SPEEDY ACTION

Speedy action was taken by the Dominion government with regard to the Board of Commerce order regulating the sugar trade. Suspension of the order was inevitable following the unanimous protest received from all parts of the country. It is announced that the government will deal with the cabinet to be held in the near future.

Premier Meighen has returned to Ottawa to take charge of the situation personally and it was doubtless on his instruction that the order of the board was suspended so quickly.
The effect of the order was so diametrically opposed to the policy of square dealing which the premier has been declaring for in his campaign speeches that it was inevitable it should be upset as soon as Hon. Mr.
Meighen got on the job at Ottawa.

The matter for speculation at the moment is, what should be done with the Board of Commerce? As now constituted it is a body without weight or influence. The three men on it are stop-gap appointments from the civil service, placed on the board at the time former members resigned. It was never intended that they should do more than merely "carry on"
until the legal status of the Board of Commerce was decided by the privy council. This is the first occasion upon which they have attempted to tackle a new issue. The result is such that the government would be well advised if it issued instruction that from now on until the privy council decision is known they should confine themselves to routine office work.—Calgary Herald.

PRICES OF FOOD

Now that the price of wheat has been reduced, the general public, which has been very patient, will not be satisfied unless it is followed by a decrease in the price of bread. Flour has kept pace fairly well with the decline in wheat, but we are informed that there is likely to be no change in the price of bread. That is somewhat surprising.

There has been a bigger reduction in the price of livestock. The farmer is getting little more than half as much for the stock that he sells than he did two years ago. Livestock has sagged from 15½ cents a pound in May to little more than half of that price now.
There has been no appreciable reduction in the price of beef.

That cannot go on continually. If the farmer does not get the price, then the consumer is not going to keep on continually and uncomplainingly to pay the high price.

With a reduction in livestock, a reduction in beef must follow.—Morning Albertan.

FARMERS ARE WARNED

Information has come to the U.
F. A. Central Office that some unauthorised persons are soliciting contributions for the big membership drive that is being planned.
A report came in over the phone from the Staveland district that some one was at work in that district soliciting contributions to the drive.
unknown to the official workers.

The U.F.A. Central Office would like to warn farmers that anybody who is authorised to solicit contributions in connection with this drive is supplied with official receipt books, and that every canvasser has a written authorisation from the District Captain, who is usually one of the best known men in the district; so that there should be no difficulty in promptly ascertaining whether a canvasser is bona fide, if there is any doubt in the matter.

There are more diamonds in South Africa, it is declared, than in any other place in the world. This slur on some of our best-known Pawn-brokers is surely unwarranted.

"How is it you never take a holiday? The boss could get along without you all right." "I know he could,
but I don't want him to find it out."— Family Herald.

We note that the Ma Ho Laundry has been taken over by Mar Hong, an old time resident of Macleod and who used to run a laundry here some few years ago. We are sure that his old patrons will be glad to hear of this as his work was always done most satisfactorily.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Isabelle McLean visited friends in Calgary over Thanksgiving.

John B. Baillie, Bow Island, was in town over Thanksgiving.

Colonel Peuchen is in Macleod inspecting progress on the mill construction.

N. Dilatash and Doc Stockton report a successful hunting trip during the fore part of this week.

Miss Gertrude Sanderson was the guest of Mrs. Rose, Lethbridge, over Thanksgiving.

R. F. Barnes, barrister, was a business visitor to Claresholm during the past week.

Don't forget the I.O.O.F. dance to be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall Wednesday, October 27th.

British Columbia went wet by 25,000 majority. This may be of vital interest after the 25th.

Geo. H. Scougall was a guest at the Life Underwriters dinner held in Calgary last week.

E. Charlton, of Barons, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Charlton over Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. L. McIntyre, of Calgary, spent Thanksgiving as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moreash.

The P. Burns' Meat Market widow dressing for Thanksgiving was a tasteful display reflecting much credit on the local staff.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilson, of Blairmore, was christened at Christ Church, Macleod, on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. J. de P. Bruce, of Gleichen, Alta., motored to Macleod on Sunday to visit his cousin E. H. Maunsell and Mrs. Maunsell.

Miss Ada Benson, who is attending Garbutt Business College, Calgary, for the fall and winter term spent Thanksgiving with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benson.

D. Graves, formerly of the R.C.M.P. at this point, now of Blackie, Alta., and Calvin Graves, of Montreal, were guests during the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson.

Mrs. A. L. Blais, of Frank, Alta., visited her son, Harold, of the R.C.M.P., and was the guest of her friend, Mrs. Chas. Polly, 18th St., during the past week.

The G. W. V. A. are giving a big masquerade Halloween Dance on Monday, Nov. 1st. Also a grand military ball on Armistice Day, Thursday, Nov. 11—Keep these dates open.

John T. Burby died from pneumonia at Calgary on Saturday, October 16th. Charles Burby, Macleod, had gone to Calgary on receiving word of his father's illness, and was present at the time of his death.

Rev. W. A. Lewis has returned from the East and will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist Church on Sunday, as usual. Children's Service at 11 a.m., subject—The Sower. 7:30 p.m.—Subject—The Goodness of God.

We see Miss Margaret McMartin, of Macleod, has entered the Morning Albertan Automobile Contest, and she is soliciting subscriptions for that paper. We are quite sure that her many friends in Macleod will do all they can to assist this popular young lady to win one of these autos.

The Macleod Vulcanizing Works has closed down for the winter months. B. E. Chaplin, manager wishes to thank many business patrons with whom the firm dealt and assures them that the business will be re-opened next April on a larger scale—and in bigger quarters.

The interior arrangement of the Macleod Meat Market has been rearranged to more conveniently serve the public and Messrs. Gelinas and St. George have on order a new glass container for meat display, which will make the Macleod Meat Market one of the most up-to-date shops in this section of Alberta.

At the regular meeting of Mountain View Lodge No. 4, I.O.O.F., last Thursday evening, Grand Warden Cope, of Medicine Hat, was present. There was a large local turnout and the First Degree was conferred on one candidate. After the regular lodge routine speeches and a banquet were the order of the evening.

A. D. Ferguson returned last Monday from a month's vacation spent in Toronto and at other Ontario points. Mrs. Ferguson, who accompanied him east, stopped off on the return trip at Brandon, Manitoba, to visit relatives and friends in that city. Mr. Ferguson reports his vacation as an enjoyable one, but states he is glad to be back in Macleod.

Visitors to Lethbridge from Macleod on the occasion of Mackenzie King's speech at the former city were: Mr. and Mrs. Alex McLeod, Johnny Ryan, A. F. Grady, Geo. Skelding and Fred Benson. The meeting was the largest of its kind ever held in the neighboring city and afterwards a banquet was tended the Liberal leader at which many of the faithful were present.

At the meeting of Macleod Town Council held Tuesday evening, there were present: Mayor Fawcett, Councillors Muldoon, McDonald, Gardiner and McNichol. Little but routine business was transacted. It is probable that Mayor Fawcett and three members of the Council will attend the convention of Alberta Municipalities to be held at Lethbridge on Wednesday, Nov. 10th.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

(London Opinion.)

The French government is making use of the cinema for instructing peasants in the art of husbandry. Unusual to find films associated with good plots.

A married lady living at Edmonton told the magistrate that her husband had not spoken to her for eight months. The husband, evidently, did not realize that it was his turn once again.

Two days after a prisoner, found guilty of murder, had been executed in Mexico, another man confessed that he had committed the crime. We suppose the execution now becomes null and void.

He (proposing): "I've saved up enough to live at the rate of $10,000 a year."
She: "For how long?"
He: "Oh, six months."

HALLOWEEN TEA and SOCIABLE

Halloween Tea and Sociable will be held at the Methodist Parsonage and Church, Thursday, October 28th. In the afternoon tea will be served in the parsonage. In the evening a real Halloween Sociable will be held in the Church Hall. Everybody invited. 33-1t

"GRUMPY"

The Comedy Drama That made Two Continents Laugh
WITH AN ALL STAR ENGLISH CAST

INCLUDING THE FOLLOWING WELL KNOWN STARS—EDWARD LEWERS (AS "GRUMPY"), FRANK COMPTON, PEGGY DUNDAS, GALWAY HERBERT, VIOLET HALL CAINE, KATHLEEN DEVLIN, TREVOR BLAND, J. JACKSON DUNNE, FREDERICK MONTI.

WHAT THE WINNIPEG PAPERS SAID:—

MANITOBA FREE PRESS:—

"Exceptionally well interpreted comedy drama and personal triumph for Edward Lewers . . . made a splendid impression . . . an all round clever interpretation of a comedy drama that has for its asset a wonderfully well worked out story of mystery and suspense . . . one must not forget that a great deal of the credit for the splendid presentation goes to Edward Lewers."

WINNIPEG TRIBUNE:—

"Lewers scores great success in 'Grumpy,' first English play of season. First of Trans-Canada Importations at the Walker well worth while . . . produced by an all English cast of more than aggregate ability, whose dear old country inflection charmed the hearts of all . . . Edward Lewers in the title role is splendid . . . his portrayal of 'Grumpy' left nothing to be desired."

WINNIPEG TELEGRAM:—

"Grumpy, dear old Grumpy, God bless him . . . Despite the skepticism of a first night audience, Edward Lewers last night succeeded in creating the very atmosphere of 'Grumpy' along the lines laid down by the Master, Cyril Maude."

There are many other flattering paragraphs we could quote, but the above more directly concern Macleod and district.

JUST A FEW DETAILS ABOUT MR. LEWERS' CANADIAN TOUR

Mr. Lewers started his theatrical career in London under Sir Herbert Tree, later being associated with Martin Harvey and Cyril Maude. On this side of the Atlantic he was, on his last visit, with Robert B. Mantell, with whom he played leading comedy roles in Shakespearean plays, also being stage director. "Grumpy" is the first English production to be imported by Trans-Canada Theatres this season, and has been voted a tremendous success wherever it has played, earning the name for Mr. Lewers of one of the great character actors of the day.

"Rastus, how is it you have given up going to church?" asked pastor Brown.

"Well, sah," replied Rastus, "it's dis way. I likes to take an active part, an' I used to pass de collection-basket, but dey's give de job to Brothah Green, who just returned from ovah thair."

"In recognition of his heroic service, I suppose?"
"No, sah. I reckon he got dat job in recognition o' his having lost one o' his hands."—Argonaut.
